USG&E Plants Trees through the Arbor Day Foundation in Honor of its Employees.

U.S. Gas & Electric, Inc. (“USG&E”), a national retail energy supplier operating in eleven states and the District of Columbia, announced that the Company would plant trees in National Forests on behalf of each and every one of its employees. Exhibiting its continuing support of environmental sustainability, USG&E planted 180 trees through the Arbor Day Foundation. The organization’s environmental commitment is also evidenced by its suite of green product offerings.

Kevin McMinn, USG&E’s Chief Operating Officer stated, “‘Sustainability’ is a property that allows a system to remain productive indefinitely. USG&E has assumed responsibility for a sustainable system both environmentally, as well as organizationally. USG&E is steadfast in its efforts to forge a robust company made sustainable through innovative products and services, untiring efforts to ensure exceptional customer experiences and a workplace culture of engagement and collaboration.”

David Weinberg, USG&E’s Chief Financial Officer added, “Our growth and success would not be possible without the dedicated efforts of every member of the USG&E family each and every day. Their hard work sustains our ever improving company, which is committed to a unified set of core values, with serving the needs of our customers at the forefront of these principles.”
